

I signed up with INDIANA'S TELEPHONE PRIVACY when it first began. I have received zero (none) calls from telemarketers since that time. I do not see any reason to change it by passing a less restricting law at the federal level. If nothing's broken, why do you try to fix it. Why don't you do everyone a favor and simply adopt Indiana's law. It works great. I don't want anything less!